OPTIMISM IS NOTE OF SERMON ON EVERY DAY LIFE

A sermon of optimism and good cheer emphasizing the thought of personal service and sacrifice was preached yesterday morning by Rev. Raymond G. Pierson at the union service held in the Federated church. His text was "The Religion of Every Day Life." He took as his text part of the 31st verse of the 40th chapter of Isaiah: "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall not be weary, they shall not be faint."

He thought that the old prophets of Israel, although they saw visions and dreamed dreams, yet were practical men, and were the first to apply religious truths to the daily life. He showed that the text gave the natural steps of the religious experiences of mankind. The wings typify the vision of the soul, the running, the rapture of religious ecstasy, and the walking the service of the individual in the ordinary walks of life.

"And the latter," he said, "required many of Christian grace than flying or shouting. It takes more power to make light than to make noise, and the climax of life is not in vision or rapture, but in the service of mankind. He emphasized the thought that all men should have a vision, but they should reveal God and opportunities for service, and should come for the betterment of mankind. Such visions, he thought, would result in the establishment of hospitals, of enlarged missionary fields, and of improvement of industrial conditions."

In regard to the rapture which expresses itself by noisy demonstration, he said that the happiest moments of life were sometimes the quietest. "It takes more strength," he said, "to roll up one's sleeves and help in the world's work, than to say amen at the close of the sermon. The world is not interested in your creed or religion, but in your practical service. If it works out square."

Religion is life, was another thought brought out clearly. "One who walks on his own feet is sure to grow weary," he said. "The flowers and the company with the toilers in the world's work," he said. "He can walk with the plain people and enjoy some of the sweetest pleasures of life."

"Ecclesiastes," he said, "is here in the common daily things of life, in walking the common road of duty, and in performing the tasks necessary for the good of mankind."

He gave a short preliminary talk to the children on "Canned Sunshine." Miss Evelyn Dahn gave a pleasing vocal solo: "Teach Me to Pray," by Jewett, and a violin solo, an offertory, a Berceuse by Godard.

MULBERGER "FILLING STATION FOR PICKLED PEOPLE" DENOUNCED

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Saturday, July 19.—In a statement issued by P. P. Hutton, superintendent of the Wisconsin Anti-Saloon league today, the Wisconsin senate is scored for the Mulberger 2.5 percent beer bill.

"Governor Phillips' suggestion that chapter 46 regulating and restricting manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors be amended and applied to 2 1/2 percent 'non-intoxicating' liquors is a virtual admission of the truth that 2 1/2 percent liquor is intoxicating," says Mr. Hutton's statement. "Repealment of such regulations would simply put a legal screen over the window of the 2 1/2 percent anti-constitution speak-easy. If 2 1/2 percent beer is non-intoxicating, the Red Cross ought to sell it to school children at a cent a bottle as they now sell milk."

"The only purpose that could be served by following the governor's suggestion would be to give some members who are being unmercifully pounded by the people 'back home' for their support of the Mulberger bill an excuse which they might offer in a request for mitigation of damages" and to give the governor himself a chance to pose as a temperance man.

"Meantime the cat is out of the bag so far as the Bird amendment to the Mulberger bill is concerned. The brewers' association propose to make 18 varieties of pickles, which will make Heinz's immortal 57 mildew with envy. The statement issued by W. H. Austin, attorney for the Wisconsin Brewers' association, says that congress has no power to define intoxicating liquor. All Uncle Sam may do is to help Wisconsin enforce 2 1/2 percent beer in Wisconsin, 4 percent in Rhode Island, and 18 percent wine as proposed in New York. The individual drinker will decide what percentage of pickle he desires to be and move to the state of that percentage. The significant part of the Bird amendment is in the declaration that 2 1/2 percent shall be held to be non-intoxicating unless congress shall pass a valid act, which shall become, the law of the land and be declared paramount to all state laws. Only a decision by the U. S. supreme court can decide whether it is 'paramount to all state laws.' That may take five years and may take ten. Meantime the Wisconsin brewers may ask for an injunction next January, when the Mulberger law takes effect, and manufacture 2 1/2 percent beer. Mulberger filling stations selling Bird beer will be thicker than sand in our Wisconsin desert, and joy riders will sing 'The Wausau jazz juice that made Milwaukee famous'."

"Senator J. H. Bennett successfully auctioned off the Mulberger sitting bar. He can now prepare a selling speech for the Phillip screen. Meanwhile, who'll bring forward a legal formula for a non-intoxicating back bar and non-intoxicating sawdust floor?"

BELA KUN REPLACED BY RADICAL LEADERS

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Vienna, Saturday, July 19.—It was a triumvirate of radical leaders that replaced Bela Kun at the head of the Budapest soviet government, according to dispatches to Vienna newspapers.

The three men composing the new government are Varga, former minister of social protection, Moses Alpari and Tibor Szamuely. The new government, according to the reports received here, ordered Habrich, commander of the city, known as a "moderate" to turn over the city to them. Volunteers for the "terror troops" have been called for by their leader, who formerly was Bela Kun's body-guard.

The governing triumvirate, it is said, is convinced the allies are either too weak or unwilling to intervene forcibly.

Bela Kun's "Red" army is declared to be breaking up. Money is depreciating in value rapidly and food conditions are said to be unbearable.

TRUESDALE PREACHES
AT PARK SERVICE

A large number of people were in attendance at the union meeting of the Baptist, Methodist, Federated and United Brethren churches held in the Court House park last evening.

Rev. J. Hart Truesdale preached the sermon, taking as his subject "The Appeal of the Gospel," as his theme, "The Power and Effectiveness of the Gospel," and for his text part of the 18th verse of First Romans. This was, "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ, for it is the power of God, which shall save every one who believes in it."

He noted three points concerning the gospel. First, as to its founder, whose brief life of but three years of public service had, he said, placed its imprint upon the ages. Second, its mission, which, he said, was to save the world, and to preach the equality of man. This, he said, had been accomplished by revelation, generation, and redemption. In regard to the last point, which was "the victory of the gospel," he said, "that it had waged a war against royalty, paganism, and

HOG CHOLERA SECURES FOOTHOLD IN COUNTY

Madison, July 21.—Hog cholera has secured a foothold in this county in certain localities, in this state, so the veterinarians connected with the state department of agriculture report, and these officials fear that unless prompt action be taken at once by farmers, breeders, and veterinarians, serious loss will ensue.

The counties in which the disease has been found this month are Buffalo, Chippewa, Crawford, Dane, Dunn, Eau Claire, Grant, Green, Green Lake, Iowa, Jefferson, Kewaunee, Lincoln, Rock, Sauk, and Shawano—17 counties. The department of agriculture is deeply concerned over the progress of the disease, and local veterinarians in the counties named have been urged to report immediately any cases of the disease or any signs of disease among their hogs.

Children Given Milk.
Shoebogran.—Three hundred and fifty children were served with a half pint bottle of milk each morning at the two dispensaries operated by the Red Cross. Each child is required to drink the milk through straws on the premises. It is sold for 1 cent a bottle.

The first customer, a shy young American, barefoot and clad in overalls was on deck before the appointed hour with his penny clutched tightly in a chubby fist. Soon whole families of children, ranging from 2 to 12, began to arrive. One group of five youngsters from the same family presented themselves in a body for their bottles of milk, the oldest being "casy-lor."

When the first 125 bottles had been distributed and still came, the youngsters remaining were piled into the automobiles of Gustave, Huette and Miss Marie Kohler and given a ride to the Dairy Products Co. plant where more bottles were purchased.

CORRECTION
An item in the advertisement of the Central Auto company in Saturday's paper was printed incorrectly. This should have read: "The Woolco Vule, the best vulcanizer on the market. Absolutely guaranteed. $1.75. Rubber-back Permatite patch, 3 square inches more for a half dollar than you get at other garages for a dollar."

COLORED WOMAN'S SERIOUSLY CUT AS POP BOTTLE BURSTS

The bursting of an ordinary pop bottle proved nearly fatal to Mrs. James Lehman, 219 South River street, shortly after 10 o'clock last evening. She lies in a serious condition at her home today as the result of the loss of blood which flowed freely from wounds in her arms. She will recover, physicians say.

Mrs. Lehman is the wife of the proprietor of the shoe shine stand at 28 West Milwaukee street. She has been in charge of the stand since her husband's death. She was standing near the stand when the bottle burst. The bottle was flying in all directions. Several of the veins in her left forearm were punctured and the blood poured out freely. For several minutes help could be obtained. When her wounds were finally attended to she was so weak she was practically helpless from loss of blood.

WOMEN READY TO PUSH S. A. DRIVE

Tomorrow morning the drive for the Salvation Army Home Service will be resumed under the direction of the women of the city.

Each ward in the city will be supervised by the following women: First ward, Mrs. J. A. Henneman; second ward, Mrs. Sister; third ward, Mrs. Francis Grant; fourth ward, Mrs. Arthur Granger; fifth ward, Mrs. Miss Joanne Hayes; sixth ward, Mrs. T. Burns.

In the third, fourth and fifth wards the women have selected their own lieutenants and affected their own organizations. In the first ward Mrs. Henneman will be assisted by the Sammie Sisters.

CHIEF MORRISSY UPHOLDS OFFICER

Acting Chief of Police Thomas Morriissy, discussing the complaint made by a citizen regarding the manner in which the night patrolman handled the situation, which arose when a coach dog attempted to bite a citizen's child, said that the officer reported the occurrence to the office and was told that he had better not try and shoot the dog on Court street or some public place, but to take it to a private place. Chief Morriissy said he was also informed that the dog would not bite anyone if they had let him alone. He was lying, Chief Morriissy said, and the officer who let alone the dog would not harm anyone.

150 American soldiers working in the salvage depot. Sgt. Brockhaus said he left Janesville August 26, 1918, and after a short training period in this country he sailed for France.

GIVEN HEAVY FINE FOR USING SET LINE

R. C. Inman of the Inman Collection agency, was arraigned before Judge H. L. Maxfield in the municipal court this morning for receiving the orders for the disposal of salvaged clothes and equipment and seeing that the articles were shipped to their proper destinations.

Mr. Inman ordered Mr. Inman to appear in court in company with another man, who was later released by Judge Maxfield. The recommendation of Attorney Charles Pierce, who is acting as district attorney.

On Mr. Inman's plea of guilty, Judge Maxfield fined him $75 and costs. He paid his fine.

OIL DELIVERY PLAN TO HOMES PERFECTED

Deliveries of gasoline, kerosene, and oil throughout the residence districts of the city will begin about the first of the coming month, Alexander Jarboe, secretary of the chamber of commerce, made known today.

"This will eliminate to a great extent delays in deliveries of gasoline, which have been so troublesome during the past year," said Mr. Jarboe. "I have been working on the scheme of having oil delivered the same as milk and ice for several weeks and, going to go a long way toward helping grocers out of their present difficulties in getting out early deliveries."

After August 1, grocers will sell only to farmers and other people who call for it. They will be permitted to deliver oil to their customers. Housewives desiring it will place cards in their windows similar to the plan used by the ice companies.

Letters for Germany
Go Through Local P. O.

The new ruling by which mail is now sent to Germany, affects the local post office to a large degree. Assistant Postmaster John A. Henneman stated this morning that many letters for Germany were now being sent there through the local office. The law affects only ordinary letters, no money orders, nor parcels, and no being sent. A ruling is expected to be sent.

TRINITY CHOR BOYS ENJOYING LIFE NEAR THE WISCONSIN DELLS

A variety of outdoor activities combined with ideal weather conditions, Trinity Episcopal church choir boys in camp at Mirror Lake, near the Dells, found to enjoy the second and final week of their outing today. The boys are enjoying themselves so much that they hesitate to think of returning home Saturday evening.

Baseball was the main feature of camp activities during the first week just closed. Three full games were played, stars and lesser lights dividing up into teams. The team headed by James Gregory cracked the record for the wildest, on the mound, proved unbeatable in all three games. Luther Mills showed up as a first base on this team with several home runs. The team was headed by Roy Bull, Deltos Amersoph and Chester Gregory were the stars.

A 10-mile hike to the lower Dells was taken Wednesday. Friday evening a boxing match was staged. George Mills and Franklin Palat exhibited the best form in a contest which ended in a draw. Thomas H. Hager, son of Susan Hager, was knocked out in the first round of his match with the younger Gregory. Conrad Knip defeated Miller Olin in a long wrestling match. A fish supper was enjoyed Friday evening. It took 53 of the finny tribe to provide all the members of the camp. The fish were caught by Fred Schumacher, James Gregory, Harry Blum, and William H. Hager.

William Mills and John Hill acted as official mail carriers while Vernon Barber and William H. Hager were busy keeping rowboats in action. Sylvian Roder and Leo De Gussing the village of Deltos for a couple of guns with which to shoot the hares at the end of the lake and hound chase planned for some time. The boys were being pitched Monday. Neil and Earl Schumacher were content to sit all day with a fish pole without getting a nibble.

New arrivals at the camp over the week end to spend the second week were Wylliffe Ford, and Walter Bull. Mrs. A. L. Hager, Mrs. L. Hager, Mrs. A. L. Hager, and Miss Margaret Smith were in charge of the cooking during the first week and will remain until Saturday. A variety of cooking has added to the pleasantness of the outing.

Rev. Henry Willman, who is in charge of the camp, managed to keep the sun off his monster Mexican sombrero while he kept the boys cool with a white shirt. He enjoyed his first swim yesterday.

A number of local people motored to the lake to spend the week end. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Knecht, Mr. and Mrs. L. Hager, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Casteand and two children, Dr. and Mrs. Charles T. Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Allen, Griffith, Pierce, Florence Hunt, Knecht, and Mr. and Mrs. George Richards, Mrs. Harold McGarity and son, and Mr. and Mrs. William Sager.

REV. EWING MEETS CHINESE FRIENDS IN WAR RIDDEN LAND

Interesting letters from Rev. C. E. Ewing, Janesville pastor, who is still in France show that he is having exceptional opportunities to see the havoc of the war.

He has been making a tour of the devastated regions in an auto. "He says of his work: 'I do not know of anyone who is to be more appreciative of the work of the Americans in France.' He was at the time writing at Courcelles, Aisne, France, where were located about 350 Chinese in two camps. Of these he says 'most of them are from the Tientsin region and some of them remember me very well. All of the Chinese here and in most camps are so appreciative and responsive that I must be a part of them from place to place.'"

Rev. Ewing just now is going from a Chinese camp to another distant one, lectures which he has prepared especially for their instruction. He stays two days in a place and has considerable opportunity to talk with the men.

He gives a vivid description of a visit to Chenlins, des Dames and a walk up the ridge which saw some of the fiercest fighting of the war. It was first occupied by the Germans, who were driven back by the French. Later it was shelled by the Germans so that it was pounded all to pieces, and they pushed on and over the ridge until they were stopped by Chateau Thierry. Then their position on the ridge was untenable and they were forced to retire, he says. He describes the torn country with shot holes everywhere and the Chinese are leveling the ground everywhere but have not yet attacked the worst of the wilderness. He also saw the soldiers in the fighting days, and in one cave which he entered the name of the Meuch general in command was still over the wall.

In speaking of the devastated villages he says few of them have a habitable house. "As yet little or nothing has been done about reconstruction, and the ignorance is thus a permanent illness. An uncleaned battle field," he says, "is the abomination of desolation. Corpses have been removed but little else. The Chinese are doing the walking round, difficult and dangerous."

In speaking of the country, he says, "I have been particularly favored because of the beautiful weather, and also when spring was moving in toward summer, and the fields were beautiful with flowers. Everywhere the red poppies make a brilliant carpet. The fields are richly green, sometimes almost hiding everything else."

He also describes a trip to Paris, and attending the American church service at the American church in Stanley Ross Fisher. He went by express train to Soissons and from there started on his trip by auto through the devastated regions to the different villages. He saw the German prisoners at work removing earth and rock from old fortifications and also taking out the remains of dead French soldiers. These were put in a casket and decently buried. He says that his schedule for lectures has been arranged until the end of June when he will probably go to Cambridge.

He makes mention of a moving picture man who was taking pictures of the camps of the Chinese at work and at play.

CO-OPERATION ES- SENTIAL IN CITY PLANNING.

The execution of a city plan by a competent planning commission involves definitely and positively much earnest effort toward thorough co-operation. This co-operation must extend to the various long established city departments and their competent officials who have been continuously engaged in solving the various parts of the problem.

No newly appointed city planning board will be so unwise and short-sighted as to attempt, solely on their own initiative and without diligent consultation with many other official and unofficial bodies, to complete so great a work. Neither would they attempt to belittle or cast discredit upon efforts already made in the direction of wise planning. Patient, earnest consideration of every factor important in the solution would necessarily be their guiding principle.

Such a commission, however, freed from routine of many established city departments, would be able to make a comprehensive study of all the details required in presenting a more perfect wholly unified plan than has heretofore been possible; a plan, in short, which should illustrate the best study and practice in this line of work which has been obtained in this or any other country.

When such a plan had been tentatively completed, it would furnish a most valuable program for uniting all classes of citizens in realizing for the future the highest ideals in municipal development.

MYSTERIOUS CALLS RECEIVED BY MISSING SOLDIER'S RELATIVES

REWARD FUND.
Mrs. P. Gehrke, $50.

With a reward of $50 offered for the recovery of the body of Glen Longdorf, believed by his mother, Mrs. Paul Gehrke, to have been missing since he received his discharge at Camp Grant, no trace of the missing soldier has been found.

Mrs. Gehrke asserts that she visited the police department at Rockford a few weeks ago, but failed to secure the co-operation of the department. She asserts that she was told by the Rockford police to take the matter up with the American Red Cross.

Since that time two mysterious telephone calls have been received by his relatives in Janesville, and each of them has been unable to locate the party who sent in the calls. "I am sure my boy has been murdered and I am offering the reward with the hope that he may be recovered," his mother said today.

Mrs. Gehrke hopes that other citizens will contribute to the reward fund. All who wish to contribute can notify the Gazette of the amount they wish to offer.

SEEK REAL WHISKEY; GET HORSE BLANKETS

Thieves, evidently bent on getting some real liquor which many claim is far more scarce than money, broke into the building formerly occupied by the Coker saloon, 25 North Academy street, during the night and although disappointed made their escape with two valuable horse blankets and some electric wiring.

Entrance to the building was gained by breaking a window on the second floor and prying open the door leading to the first floor. Imagine the surprise of the intruders when they entered the place and found that there was no whiskey on hand.

Mr. Gokey closed out his business before July 1 and for the information of others who might wish to try the stunt Mr. Gokey wishes it known that he has no booze stored in the building.

Junk Dealer Injured in Runaway Accident

EXCITING GAME AT BELOIT ENDS WITH RAILS AHEAD, 10-5

The Ralls made good use of their less machine to defeat the Fairbanks-Morse Apprentices 10 to 5, at Beloit yesterday afternoon in a game brimful of excitement and speedy playing. The Ralls, led by Williams, the Gateway City heater, for a total of 18 hits, Griffin being the chief cluster with four wallpops to his credit. Neave got the longest hit of the day in a scorching three-bagger. It was a tight game up until the eighth inning. At the beginning of that round the Ralls were leading, 4 to 3. A bunch of clean hits in this inning gave the Ralls a 10-5 lead. Two infield hits and two errors gave the Junior Fairies two more runs in the last two innings.

Pira was effective at all times especially in the pinches. He used his spit-ball to strike out 12 men while allowing 5 hits, 4 of them infield hits. Willis caught a good amount of the base hits of the regulars. Jimmie Gregory, who is spearing fast and two-stepping about the Dells this week.

ALL-STARS LOSE TO BELOIT NINE, 22-8

The All-Stars were handed the worst triumph of their long and eventful career when they were walloped, 22 to 8, by the Yates Machine company team at Beloit yesterday afternoon. To defeat the All-Stars in the local aggregation but his states were clearly outclassed in all departments. Had the Stars played their usual brand of ball the score might have been closer.

The Stars collected 17 hits while Beloit was gathering 28. They were unable to put across any more than eight markers. Stokes, who hurried for Yates, would have been yanked from the box in the middle of the fray, but perfect support saved him. As far as the Stars were concerned, Willie Hager was able to retire but one via the whiff route. Wooten was the main cluster for the Yates, polling two singles and a single. Wooten also donated a triple for the Beloit gang. Hager was the slugging star for the local nine, connecting for three hits out of five trips to the plate.

The Yates infield worked in the fifth because of a bruised finger. The Stars are not at all disheartened over their downfall yesterday and declare that they are coming back to win the victory on all before the season closes. They will battle the Samson nine on the tractor diamond tomorrow evening in their first twilight game of the season. The game will start at 4:45.

Sunday the Stars will again journey to Charles Bluff to play the third and deciding game of a series with their old foe—the Milton Junction team.

Lawyer's Death Is Tragic.
Stevens Point.—The tragic death of Thomas H. Hanna, member of the law firm of Nelson & Hanna, at his home in this city, has caused much grief. Mr. Hanna suffered a slight attack of tonsillitis that morning and on advice of his physician was taking a bath when the tube attached to the heater became disconnected, allowing the gas to escape and asphyxiating him. Mrs. Hanna and their son, Thomas Jr., had been in Chicago for three weeks where the boy was receiving medical treatment, and Mr. Hanna was at home alone. It is believed that he went to the bath room about 9 a. m. When Dr. MacMillan, the family physician, returned at 6:30 that evening he found the boy dead and going to the bath room found Mr. Hanna's body. He had been dead several hours.

Mr. Hanna served as mayor of Stevens Point for four years, 1904 to 1908, was a delegate to the national democratic convention in 1904, and had long been a leader in state politics.

Dies Following Explosion.
Eau Claire.—The death Friday in a Chippewa Falls hospital of Calvin Hayward, 40, of the firm of Heath & Hayward, vulcanizing plant at Chippewa Falls, was the result of the explosion of cement and oil in the vulcanizing plant of the company Thursday. Edward Davis, 35, a helper, died a few moments after the other victim. Both were working together when the lighting of the vulcanizer exploded some oil and cement which had leaked out. The burning oil set fire to their clothing which was burned off. Davis died in a hospital. While the remaining shreds of clothing on Hayward were torn off by men who were attracted to the scene of the explosion. Davis is survived by a wife and four children and Hayward by a wife and seven children.

George was a straightforward soul.

at least. "See here!" he said. "Are you engaged to anybody?"

"No. Not wholly mollified, he shrugged his shoulders. "You seem to know a good many people! Do you live in New York?"

"No. We don't live anywhere."

"What do you mean; you don't live anywhere?"

"We've lived all over," she answered. "Papa used to live here in this town, but that was before I was born."

"What do you keep moving around so for? Is he a promoter?"

"No. He's an inventor."

"What's he invented?"

"Just lately," said Lucy, "he's been working on a new kind of horseless carriage."

"Well, I'm sorry for him," George said, in an unkindly spirit. "Those things are never going to amount to anything. People aren't going to spend their lives lying on their backs in the road and letting grease drip in their faces."

"Papa'd be so grateful," she returned, "if he could have your advice."

Instantly George's face became flushed. "I don't know that I've done anything to be insulted for!" he said.

"I don't see that what I said was particularly fresh."

"No, indeed!"

"Then what do you—"

She laughed gayly. "I don't! And I don't mind your being such a lofty

Famo Makes Heads Clean and Healthy

Science knows that seborrhea causes falling hair, dandruff and finally baldness.

Famo stops seborrhea by destroying the deadly seborrhea bacilli.

It dissolves the dandruff and makes the hair and scalp clean and healthy.

The seborrhea germ attacks the hair roots and unless it is checked, kills the hair.

Famo kills the germ and makes new healthy hair grow.

It gives a new lustre and sheen to the hair and stops falling hair and itchy scalp.

No massage of the scalp is necessary, as Famo is absorbed as soon as applied.

All toilet goods counters sell Famo in two sizes—a small size at 35 cents and an extra large size for $1.00.

Your money will be returned if the large size does not satisfy.

Seborrhea is a morbidly increased flow from the sebaceous glands of the scalp. The seborrhea excretion forms in scales and flakes and is commonly known as dandruff.

person at all. I think it's ever so interesting—but papa's a great man!"

"Is he?" George decided to be good-natured. "Well, let us hope so. I hope so, I'm sure."

Looking at him keenly, she saw that the magnificent youth was incredibly sincere in this bit of graciousness. She shook her head in gentle wonder. "I'm just beginning to understand," she said.

"Understand what?"

"What it means to be a real Amberson in this town. Papa told me something about it before we came, but I see he didn't say half enough!"

George superbly took this all for tribute. "Did your father say he knew the family before he left here?"

"Yes, I believe he was particularly a friend of your Uncle George; and he didn't say so, but I imagine he must have known your mother very well, too. He wasn't an inventor then; he was a young lawyer. The town was smaller in those days, and I believe he was quite well known."

"I dare say. I've no doubt the family are all very glad to see him back, especially if they used to have him at the house a good deal, as he told you."

"I don't think he meant to boast of it," she said. "He spoke quite calmly," she retorted, as her partner for the next dance arrived.

She took wing away on the breeze of the waltz, and George, having stared gloomily after her for a few moments, postponed filling an engagement, and strolled round the fluctuating outskirts of the dance to where his uncle, George Amberson, stood smilingly watching, under one of the rose-vine arches at the entrance to the room.

"Hello, young namesake," said the uncle. "Why lingers the laggard heel of the dancer? Haven't you got a partner?"

"She's sitting around waiting for me somewhere," said George. "See here: Who is this fellow Morgan that Aunt Fanny Minner was dancing with a while ago?"

Amberson laughed. "He's a man with a pretty daughter, George. Meantime you've been spending the evening noticing something of that sort—or do I err?"

"Never mind! What sort is he?"

"I think we'll have to give him a character, George. He's an old friend; used to practice law here—perhaps he had more debts than cases, but he paid 'em all up before he left town. Your question is purely mercenary. I take it: you want to know his true worth before proceeding further with the daughter. I cannot inform you, though I notice signs of considerable prosperity in that becoming dress of hers. However, you never can tell. It is an age when every sacrifice is made for the young, and how your own poor mother managed to provide those genuine pearl studs for you out of her allowance from father I can't—"

"Oh, dry up!" said the nephew. "I understand this Morgan—"

"Mr. Eugene Morgan," his uncle suggested. "Politeness requires that the young should—"

"I guess the 'young' didn't know much about politeness in your day," George interrupted. "I understand that Mr. Eugene Morgan used to be a great friend of the family. The way he was dancing with Aunt Fanny—"

Amberson laughed. "I'm afraid your Aunt Fanny's heart was stirred by ancient recollections, George."

"You meant she used to be silly about him?"

"She wasn't considered singular," said the uncle. "He was—he was popular. Could you bear a question?"

"What do you mean: could I bear—"

"I only wanted to ask: Do you take this same passionate interest in the pursuits of every girl you dance with? Perhaps it's a new fashion we old bachelors ought to take up. Is it the thing this year to—"

"Oh, go on!" said George, moving away. "I only wanted to know—"

He left the sentence unfinished, and crossed the room to where a girl sat waiting for his nobility to find time to fulfill his contract with her for this dance.

"Pardon me, keep wait," he muttered, as she rose brightly to meet him; and she seemed pleased that he came at all. He danced with her perfunctorily, thinking the while of Mr. Eugene Morgan and his daughter. Strangely enough his thoughts dwelt more upon the father than the daughter, though George could not possibly have given a reason—even to himself—for this disturbing preoccupation.

By a coincidence, though not an odd one, the thoughts and conversation of Mr. Eugene Morgan at this very time were concerned with George Amberson Minner, rather casually. It is true. Mr. Morgan had retired to a room set apart for smoking, on the second floor, and had found a grizzled gentleman lounging in solitary possession.

"Gene Morgan!" this person exclaimed, rising with great heartiness. "I don't believe you know me!"

Dinner Stories

Why did you get rid of your parrot? Did it talk too much?"

"No; I could stand its talk, but it was learning to imitate our neighbor's honking flivver."

A bright little newsie entered a business office and, approaching a grim-looking man at one of the desks, began with an ingratiating smile:

"I'm selling thimbles to raise money 'bout with you!" interrupted the man.

"Wouldn't you like to look at some nice thimbles?"

"They're fine, and I'd like to make a sale," he continued.

Turning in his chair to fully face the lad, the grouch caustically inquired:

"Wharton's seven kinds of blazes do you think I want with a thimble?"

"Use it for a hat."

"Women are quick to learn," remarked the head waiter of a fashionable restaurant.

"How's that, Henri?"

"I can point out half a dozen wives of war millionaires who had never been inside a place like this until a year or two ago, but now they are as loquacious and hard to please as if they had been dining here all their lives."

"If I was rich, darling, would you love me more than you do?" asked the hopeful young man.

"Well, I might not love you any more, but I should look forward to our wedding day with a great deal of more impatience than I do at present."

Reported Dead, But Lives.
La Crosse—Albert J. Novak, former Co. B soldier, wounded in France and is in a local hospital recovering from the effects of the ninth operation performed on his injured leg. He suffered shrapnel wounds near the hip. Novak was left for dead on a battlefield in France and was rescued by French troops after the ground had been recovered in a charge.

AFTON
Afton, July 18.—The Misses Rena and Frances Engelke entertained Thursday at a 7 o'clock dinner in honor of Stewart Oakley, who recently returned from overseas; also other guests, Hermine Jeaggin, Milwaukee, and Freda Gackstatter, Janesville. Those present were Stewart Oakley, Maggie Oakley, Elmer Fredendall, Joe Burner, Elizabeth Burner, Henry Nohr, Irvin Engelke, Afton; Hermine Jeaggin, Milwaukee; and Freda Gackstatter, Janesville.

Miss Essie Griffin and her sister, Mrs. John Van Dusen and children of Beloit, left Wednesday for Two Rivers for a week's visit with friends.

Elizabeth Burner came up from Beloit Tuesday to spend her week's vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Burner.

Mrs. John Brinkman has gone to Chicago for a short time with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Miller, Lois Miller and Harriet Miller, Crookston, Minn., and A. S. Waite, Janesville, former residents of this place, were calling here Wednesday.

Mrs. R. Patten and two children of Milwaukee, who were guests of the Gehling family, have gone to Janesville to visit relatives.

Curtis Chase and sister, Elizabeth, Janesville, were in Afton Wednesday.

Mrs. Gus Nohr spent Tuesday with her brother, Fred Altendahl, near Beloit.

Tom Corcoran was a Chicago visitor Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Novaski, Janesville, Mr. and Mrs. John Schleuter, Marion and Robert Schleuter, were recent callers in the village.

Unsightly and Disfiguring Signals of Bad Blood.

Pimples on the face and other parts of the body are warnings from Nature that your blood is sluggish and impoverished. Sometimes they foretell eczema, boils, blisters, and other skin disorders that burn like flames of fire.

They mean that your blood needs S. S. S. to purify it and cleanse it of these impure accumulations that can cause unlimited trouble. This remedy is the greatest vegetable blood purifier known, and contains no minerals or chemicals to injure the most delicate skin.

Go to your drug store, and get a bottle of S. S. S. today, get rid of those unsightly, disfiguring pimples, and other skin irritations. It will cleanse your blood thoroughly. For special medical advice free, address Medical Director, 41 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

HUGE CROWD SEES JANES WIN SUNDAY

FOOTVILLE SWAMPED BY JANESVILLE

Before the largest crowd that ever witnessed a baseball game in Janesville, the Lawrence Lunch team smothered the Footville White Sox to the tune of 7 to 0 in the Fair Grounds yesterday afternoon. Footville was completely outclassed from start to finish and the Janes should have registered at least four more markers during the game.

Over 1800 avid fans, many of them from Footville, went to the Fair Grounds yesterday expecting to see a hair raising battle. There was no doubt to it and Sam Lengquist pitching for Janesville led the villagers down with two hits. Weber the Footville star pitcher was touched for 10 hits including a three bagger and several two base hits.

One thing is certain and that is if Footville has a real baseball team Connie Mack's team in the American League is a wonder.

Some attribute the poor showing of the villagers to the immense crowd, but the real fans insist that Silverthorn's crew were simply outplayed by their city brothers.

Over In First
As far as the game goes it was over in the first inning when the Janes scored three runs by playing real baseball. Vinoy the first man up got on first through an error. Then followed an avalanche of base hits, including a three base walk by Bond which netted the local team three markers.

Lengquist then proceeded to pitch big league baseball, and the Janes took the lead in the second inning. The villagers during the entire game. He displayed a wonderful variety of curves and the Footville boys were hitting at the air most of the time. In the first four innings three Footville men succeeded in getting to first base and two of them were ably assisted by errors on the part of the local aggregation.

In the second inning the Janes registered again after taking a rest. They then out and quipped two more in the third. In the fourth frame they evidently decided to give Weber and teammates a rest as the batter swung wild at every pitch.

The fourth inning started with a bang and before the villagers were able to put out three men, the local team had scored four more runs. Then on until the game was finished the Janes were in a hurry to get it over with. They swung everything pitched and most of them batted left handed. The Bellefonte sensation was pulled in the sixth inning in favor of Lentz, who despite the fact that he is considered a second string pitcher, proved to be a real pitcher with a proved fast ball. He held the Janes scoreless during the last three innings and undoubtedly the game would have been far better if Manager Silverthorn had selected Lentz to start the game. Sachs, playing right field for the Janes, delivered three clean hits in his first three times at bat. He also pitched well in the eighth, ninth and twelfth he grabbed flies which were thought by all to be extra base hits.

Notes of Game
The game itself was far better than the score indicates and the huge crowd stayed until the last man was out. Footville made several unsuccessful changes in their lineup in an attempt to turn defeat into victory, but all the men looked the same to Lengquist. With 1800 fans out to see a baseball game in Janesville, proves beyond all doubt that the local people want a real baseball team and they will back a winning team to the limit. Manager Murphy has promised the Janesville people a real team if given the support and it is now up to the management to go out and book some real teams for games at the Fair Grounds.

Summary.—Three base hits, Bond; two base hits, Gorman; struck out by Lengquist, 6; by Weber, 2 in five innings; by Lentz 4 in three innings; hit by pitcher, Crouke; base on balls, off Lengquist 3; off Weber 1. Umpire Libby. Time 2:15.

Notes of Game
Joe Ryan, the pride of Footville was the target of much abuse, not only from the local fans, but the villagers who wagged their shakels on Silverthorn's crew. Ryan was clearly off color and sadly in need of practice.

Manager Murphy has appointed Edward Winslow, chief, engineer and manager in charge of the ground keeping department as a reward for his work in putting the grounds in shape.

The game was late in starting on account of the tip of the interurban. It was necessary to send a car to Beloit to get Lengquist and Sachs. It was certainly worth the trip however.

Maurice Dalton was an interested spectator, but he was not understood that he was not rooting for Footville. Maurice made a small wager on the villagers as the man he bet with wouldn't take the Footville end.

Gorman made the star play of the day when he went half way to the dugout to grab a foul in the first. Pierce also handled a hot liner with hand in real style.

Libby is there with the individual fans and only under-stand he says. There was not a stirred by either team.

orn can't go home and tell anything but the team was all there to battle.

MACHINE COMPANY AND PARKER NINES ARE TIED FOR FIRST

Parker Pen	2	0	1.000
Machine Co.	2	0	1.000
Products Co.	1	0	.500
Samson	1	0	.500
Barb Wire	0	2	.000
Y. M. C. A.	0	2	.000

The second round of three games played in the industrial baseball league Saturday afternoon ended with the Parker Pen, Machine Co., and Samson nines leading, which leaves the first two teams tied for high honors in the league with two victories apiece. The Products and Samson's are occupying the second berth together, with a win and a loss to talk about.

The scores of Saturday's games were:
Janesville Machine 6; Products 5.
Samson 12; Barb Wire 1.
Parker Pen 22; Y. M. C. A. 4.
The Machine-Products game was easily the best one of the day. It took 10 hot innings for the machinists to return victors.

Despite Hemmings' efforts on the mound for the Y. M. C. A. he was unable to hold down the sluggers and the Products had little trouble in winning, 22 to 4.

The Samson lads delivered what was expected of them. Under the new management, the team has been the best of the day. The essence of good old ginger and behind the stellar pitching of little George Berger, was safe and sound support.

They showed one old weakness, poor base running. They started bad with two errors handing the Barb Wire men a lone run in the opener, but after they got this ivory playing out of their system, many another good sandlot trick did they execute to their playing.

Heavy With Hickory
They clouted the ball for 12 solid hits, five of them good for extra bases, resulting two bound men, Bick and an ex-Chicago bird named Carroll. The infield had some life and with Nelson and at short the inner wall looked and acted formidable. As for the outfield, they were plenty of chances. Kasmarek out in left field made a catch off Bond in the eighth inning that was a beauty.

Bond drove a line and Kasmarek started with the crack of the bat and after running twenty feet lunged and hung on the ball with one hand. Stickney on the other end of the circle whanged three drives after long runs. Behind the bat Harrison showed something, for while a few stole on him, his catching to date stands better than anything yet seen in the circuit.

But Berger was the Big IT during the game. As a mound artist he was "tray-bon" for he had a ton of stuff on his prize drop and the Barb Wire boys gathered but three hits off him; all well scattered. Berger fanned 13 and had perfect control in preventing any of the opposition getting a sneak down to first via the four ball ticket. The Barb Wire lads tried hard enough, no doubt about that fact. They were not guilty of any gross errors and fielded well, but they could not connect with Berger and the Samson lads ran true and clean. Bick started and for some reason could not deliver up to his reputed form. Carroll relieved him in the fifth and he was good for three more runs. Bond the third sacker of the lancers looked bad at the bat, being fanned twice by Berger. Kakuske who went behind the bat displayed class with the big mitt job.

Boots Give Score
Two errors gave the Barb Wire their lone tally and thereafter they didn't come within a mile of making the circuit. The big blow-up came in the second when Nelson singled, Sledshlag was punctured by Bick's left shoot and Stickney came through with a merry double. Harrison fanned. Berger and Kasmarek were safe on attempted infield plays. Dopp singled and with the bases packed Miller doubled to deep center. Six, counted had been checked up, enough to win the game for the Samson. A timely double by Dopp in the sixth scored three runs and the producer of the wallop went out trying to stretch it into a three ply hit. The sweet throw from the outfield nipped him at the far corner.

The Samson fans were all smiles after the game for the boys had delivered a win to instill confidence and spirit. The team had lots of good backing and they are due for a lot more for all one hears down at the tractor works is "wait and watch!"

Play Evening Games
One of two twilight games will be played by the Samson men during the coming week. One of them on Wednesday evening will be a shop game. This practice of putting two teams from the plant in action has resulted in considerable good sport and recreation for the workmen. Also it tends to develop good backing and spirit for the representative team. During the evening the employees get out on the diamond and gallop around in the grand old American game for a good time.

The summary of Saturday's game follows:
Samson—Berger, p.; Harmon, c.; Nelson, ss.; Sledshlag, 1b.; Miller, 2b.; Crouke, 3b.; Stickney, Harris, rf.; Dopp, cf.; and Kasmarek, lf.
Barb Wire—Bick and Carroll, p.; Prox and Kakuske, c.; Schilling, 2b.; Bond, 3b.; Bickie, V. rf.; Zahn, lf.; and Kakuske and Prox, cf.

Products vs. Machine Co.
It looked like an easy victory for the machinists in the first inning when they scored three runs after they had retired the Products in one-two-three order. Crowley smashed a triple and four other hits were rung up off the pop, former White Sox pitcher, in this round. The Products tied the score in the second inning, Costello, Palmer and Schauer choosing in at the rubber. Babcock stole home in the ninth and the half, giving them a lead of one run.

After the fourth inning, when McGinley tripled and scored on more cock's single, there were more runs until the eighth, when Palmer scored for the Products. Bick and Lathrop both did real pitching during these innings. In the ninth, Costello reached home, tying the score. Lathrop was whalloped out a three-bagger, but was caught by Sullivan's peg when trying to stretch it into a home-run.

Then came the last half of the tenth, when the plow-makers pushed across the winning run. McGinley fanned and Babcock dropped a pretty single over second, going to third on Hager's sacrifice. With two down, Wave went to the plate and after taking two healthy swings at Lathrop's smoky ones, met the third one and lifted it high in the air. The ball dropped safely between the left fielder and third base. Babcock came across the plate with a grin on his sweaty face and the game was won for the machinists.

MILWAUKEE READY FOR GOLF TOURNEY

By GUY F. GREGG.

(Secretary Wisconsin Golf Association)
Milwaukee, Wis., July 21.—No longer do sports sit back watching Milwaukee have with its followers, no longer do athletes fall in heroic fashion to a cause more important than all else—democracy. War is a thing of the past, and the day of revival of athletics is at hand.

On July 28 state golf will see its followers assembled as one on the links of the Blue Mound Country club of Milwaukee, ready to compete in the 1919 championship. Since 1916, the grand old Scotch game has been a matter of interest to only a small percentage of players, the majority of golfers giving their attention to war needs, or going into military service to beat the Germans. Now that this is accomplished and the boys have returned to their golfing soil, the approaching tournament should prove a big affair. Blue Mound has its course in tip-top condition for the tournament. The stage is all set, socially and from a golfing standpoint.

It is a matter more than a little difficult to pick a favorite for the title, much less a possible champion. E. P. "Ned" Allis, the phenomenal Milwaukee four times thus far, is practicing here and there, and probably will be back to defend the laurels which he won in 1918. His decision has not been reached, however.

R. F. "Dick" Cavanagh, Kenosha's best in golf, also is undecided as to his intentions, although it is likely his entry will be received. Fred Zwaska, Blue Mound, who also is an expert in rating with other state followers on the Scotch sport, should compete, but business may interfere with his participation.

Country club star, who has been golfing expertly in what little playing he did, should be among the starters, although such decisions are usually not reached until just a few days prior to the close of the entries.

C. C. Allen, another star member of the Kenosha Country club, will compete in the event. He is golfing splendidly. He visited the Blue Mound club on July 16, and in his rounds registered a brilliant 76 and followed it up with a 72, some of the lowest scores made at the club this season.

Chicago fans and critics are sulking Kid Gleason to a lively pace because he has not strengthened the pitching department of the White Sox. Gleason is making a determined fight to pass the Yankees, but he still is depending almost entirely on Clete, Williams and Faber to do the hurrying. "These boxmen, it's pointed out, soon must show signs of overwork and, for that reason, the White Sox may blow up with a loud report. Owner Comiskey, one of the richest magnates in the game, is urged to unhook the bankroll so that Gleason can secure a pair of first class pitchers. But where can such men be found? No other American league club can afford to let a good boxman go, and Gleason, therefore, is unable to make a move of any kind.

Do These Belong in Your Gasoline Tank?

—Unburned Carbon that clogs up your pistons and steals your power.

—Unexploded Kerosene that flushes the oil from your cylinders, drains past the pistons into your crank case, and thins your lubricant to the point of uselessness and danger.

—Water that collects in your carburetor, causing misses and final stoppage.

Contrast this dangerous, carbon-laden, kerosene-reeking product which is commonly offered you, against —the very cream of petroleum, every drop of it free from excess carbon, from kerosene, from every foreign element. Every atom of it is eager to fire, full of power, all-explosive.

True Gasoline 30 Cents

It's slightly higher first cost seems mighty insignificant when you check up its honest value against the damage caused by low-standard "Nearoline".
